

BOMB FACTORY RAIDED; TAKE GENNA GUNMEN

Police Act to Avert Big Gang War Said to Be Brewing

Chicago, March 8.—(AP)—A countryside farmhouse near Melrose Park, declared by police to have been a factory for turning out bombs in wholesale quantities, was raided by two squads of detectives early today and eleven men, a majority of them declared to be members of the Genna gang, were arrested.

Two powerful dynamite bombs, wrapped and apparently ready for delivery, were found in a kitchen cupboard and the house was an arsenal in which four shotguns and many revolvers were stored.

The raid on the "bomb farm" was seen as the first step in a police counter-offensive to thwart an expected general war in gangland for control of the lucrative southside beer and alcohol traffic.

It came on the heels of an announcement by chief of detectives John Stege that he had ordered seven additional detective squads into the stockyards and Englewood districts, and that the special bomb squad would work there and follow clues unearthed in the gangsters' haunts. A roaming squad with orders to arrest gangsters and hoodlums on sight also was ordered into the district.

A tip gleaned by State's Attorney John A. Swanson's investigators that a council meeting of members of the "bomb trust" was to be held in the farm house at midnight led to the raid.

The detectives surrounded the house, turned the head and spot lights of their automobiles onto the entrance and exit.

After rounding up the 11 prisoners and taking them to jail for questioning, the detectives declared belief they had caught the manufacturers of many of the bombs that have rocked the city in recent months.

The principal captives were Tony Giannini, said to be a lieutenant for Joe Montana, Melrose Park alcohol baron, and Tony Caliendo, owner of the farm. The others arrested were known as adherents either of the notorious Genna brothers or of other gang leaders.

The farm house was remembered by police as the hide-out of Charles (Limpy) Weaver, convicted mail robber, and he was captured after a pistol battle there in 1928.

Big Gang War Brewing
While the police counter drive was being planned yesterday, more than 5,000 persons, many from out of the state, visited the undertaking parlor where the body of John (Dingbat) Oberta lay. It was his "ride" murder Wednesday night and the recent attempt to assassinate Frank McErlane, gangland's desperado supreme, that warned police another big gang war likely was brewing.

Plan Oberta Funeral
Mrs. Florence Oberta, widow of the slain gangster, plans a funeral next Tuesday that will equal in cost a display that she gave her former gangster husband, Tim Murphy, who was slain two years ago.

Police were ordered to arrest Joe Salits, beer baron, as soon as he arrives from his Wisconsin estate. He has threatened to "come back and get Oberta's killers." Oberta was (Continued on Page 2).

SALTIS, "AVENGER" AFTER GANGSTERS WHO SLEW OBERTA

"Polack Joe" Announces He is Coming From Wisconsin Today

Chicago, March 8.—(AP)—One of the "big shot" gangsters, "Polack Joe" Salits, himself, was due in town today from his Wisconsin country place—avowedly to avenge the slaying of his beer-selling ally, John (Dingbat) Oberta.

That he would be met by a reception committee of heavily armed policemen was announced by Chief of Detectives John Stege.

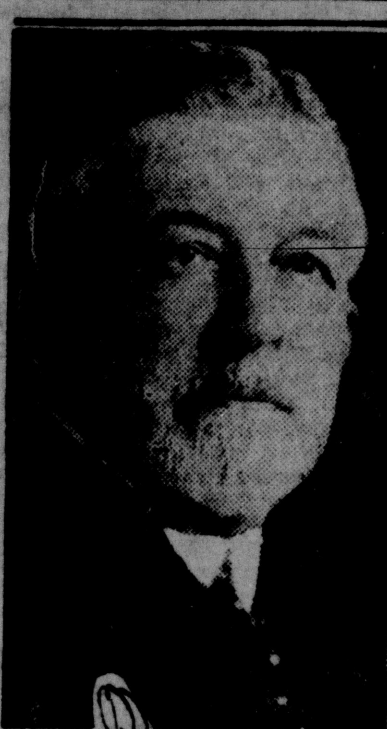

Stege was informed that Salits telephoned his leaving from his country place, adding:

"I don't know who killed my friend, but I'll soon find out."

Stege was convinced, however, that Salits believed the assassination of Oberta and his chauffeur, Sam (The Shadow) Malega, was carried out by Frank McErlane, erstwhile ally of Salits but now associated with Spike O'Donnell and his clan.

In the meantime, Chicago went to work this morning as it always does—bored with gang killings and amused at Salits' role of avenger.

Hays, Jan. 18, 1856, being a daughter of Lewis and Mary Antonette Holly Hays, who were married August 15, 1854, by Rev. James Baum. The Hays family made their home in Camanche, Iowa, until the death of Lewis Hays, the father, May 9, 1856, and after his burial in Rock Island Lydia made her home with her grandparents until her marriage on July 29, 1885, to Joseph Morrill, who passed away a number of years ago at San Jose, Calif., where he was buried.

Later his widow was married to Frank Simonson, who has also preceded her in death. She is survived and mourned by one son, Nathaniel Morrill; one daughter, Genevieve Simonson; and two sisters, Mrs. Nina Grimes of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Mrs. Jessie A. March of Dixon.

Mrs. Simonson, who was a charter member of the Candlelighters' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, was a loving and solicitous mother, a true friend and an estimable woman whose death brings sincere sorrow to a large circle of friends.

Kidnap Attendant In Auto And Take $27
Belleville, Ill., March 8.—(AP)—Kidnaped about 2:30 A. M. today, in Marion, Ill., by three bandits, Roy Wells, 30, filling station operator, was robbed and thrown out of the bandit car on state highway No. 15, two miles east of Belleville to 5 A. M. He was robbed of $27 but was not beaten or otherwise harmed by his abductors.

Wells walked on into Belleville, arriving about 6 A. M., and notified police.

The bandit car, a large yellow sedan with a 1929 license, drove up to the filling station on the main street of Marion about 2:30 A. M., and one of the men, producing a revolver, forced Wells to enter the car. During the trip he was robbed several times and the robbers changed disguise several times and sought to disguise their voices. They spoke of 33rd street and police here believed they referred to 33rd street in East St. Louis.

Wells described the men as all about 25 years old and about 5 feet 11 inches in height.

UNEMPLOYMENT TO VANISH IN SPRING-HOOVER

President Says Effects Of Stock Crash To Be Gone in Month or Two

Washington, March 8.—(AP)—A thorough study of the present economic situation has convinced President Hoover that within a month or two the more serious effects of last fall's stock market crash will have been passed with unemployment conditions definitely on the mend.

To the increased out-of-doors construction work that comes each year as the weather grows warmer and to the expanded building programs of the railroads, public utilities and private industries the chief executive looks to bring about this result.

Mr. Hoover's views on the situation were summarized in a statement, issued to Washington newspapermen yesterday, based on a statistical study made by interested departments and consultation with the business organization set up by the president as a part of his program for economic stabilization. At the same time, a joint statement by the heads of the commerce and labor departments was made public.

Good Times Come Back
"All the evidences indicate," the Chief Executive said, "that the worst effects of the (stock market) crash upon employment will have been passed during the next sixty days with the amelioration of seasonal unemployment, the gaining strength of other forces and the continued cooperation of the many agencies actively cooperating with the government to restore business and to relieve distress."

Unemployment, he said, is serious in but twelve states and hardly more than seasonal in the remaining thirty-six. He added that the low points of business and employment were passed in December and that a gradual improvement had been noted since that time.

Secretary Lamont and Secretary Davis, in their joint statement asserted that the forces of recovery were steadily gaining strength. Although not fixing the extent of unemployment in specific figures, they estimated it at between one-third and one-half of that which existed during the depression of 1921 and 1922.

A sub-committee of the senate commerce committee will open hearings on Tuesday or Wednesday for the purpose of formulating legislation for enactment at this congress to help in remedying the situation and to stabilize labor conditions for the future.

GALESBURG FANS HURT IN CRASH;
TWO BUSES BURN

Two Buses With Fans Returning From Basketball Game Collide

Kirkwood, Ill., March 8.—(AP)—A score of passengers were injured, one perhaps fatally and seven others severely, when two buses carrying players and fans back to Galesburg from a basketball tournament at Burlington, Iowa, crashed and burned near here early today.

When the first bus failed to make a turn one mile south of here and careened wildly, the second crashed into it. The gasoline tank of the latter was broken and the fuel burst quickly into flames. The fire spread quickly and many of the 43 occupants of both buses were burned before they could get out. Others suffered broken limbs, cuts and bruises.

Both buses, belonging to the Illinois Power and Light Company of Galesburg, were destroyed. Their drivers, A. L. Collopy and George Hickie, both of Galesburg, escaped serious injury.

William Tucker, of Galesburg, with severe burns and other injuries, was in a critical condition in a Monmouth hospital.

Among the severely injured were Wilbur Baldwin, dislocated arm and burns on the face; Elmer Wart, burns and bruises; Isal Johnson, injured leg; Dorothea Wells, injured ankle; R. A. Tulane, burned hands; Leonard Nelson, broken leg, and Mrs. R. G. Gilmore, bruised and shocked. All came from Galesburg except Johnson, who is from Knoxville, Ill.

Less serious injuries were suffered by Sarah Alney, Louis E. Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Simpson, Melvin Lemmons, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Ebert, Ethel Brissotto, Mrs. R. A. Tulane, Mrs. C. E. Jerling, Mrs. W. J. Costello, and Irene Nelson, all of Galesburg.

The verdict automatically carries the death penalty. Green will announce his choice when sentence is pronounced March 15. Only one condemned slayer in Utah has chosen the gallows.

PATRICK GRAHAM DIED LAST EVE: RITES ON MONDAY

Never Fully Recovered From Injuries Sustained In Fall

Patrick Graham died at his home, 610 N. Dement avenue last night after a short illness. Funeral services will be held at the late residence at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and at St. Anne's Catholic church at 9:30, Rev. Fr. T. G. Flynn officiating, and with interment in Oakwood.

Mr. Graham's death was the indirect result of his having been struck by an unidentified automobile during the winter. Partially recovering from the effects of the injuries he sustained, he returned to his work as watchman at the Nachusa ave. crossing of the Northwestern Railroad, and a few days later he was found helpless in the watchman's shanty there, the victim of a stroke, from which he failed to rally.

JUSTICE SANFORD OF U. S. SUPREME COURT DIED TODAY

Was Taken Ill While In Dentist's Chair: Worked Friday

Washington, March 8.—(AP)—Justice Edward Terry Sanford of the Supreme Court died at his home here today.

Justice Sanford, who has seemingly been in good health, sat on the Supreme Court bench yesterday.

This morning, however, he went to his dentist who extracted a tooth and he became ill.

His physician, Dr. J. Lawn Thompson, was summoned.

He was removed to his residence as quickly as possible. Later it was said that he had developed symptoms of uremic trouble. He died shortly afterward.

The news of his death came with startling unexpectedness.

The fact that he was ill became generally known only a few minutes before the word of the end was received.

His colleagues on the Supreme Bench had gathered in the court conference room and were congratulating Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes on his 89th birthday at about the time he passed away.

The death of Justice Sanford came as his former chief, William Howard Taft, lay critically ill at his home. Word from Mr. Taft's physicians this morning said that the former President was not quite so well.

Court Adjourned.
Astounded and saddened by the news of Justice Sanford's death, the other members who were in the conference room discussing cases that had been argued, immediately adjourned and some of them went immediately to his home to express their regret and sympathy.

Justice Sanford was 64 years of age and was named to the Supreme Bench by President Harding in January, 1923, and took his seat the following February.

He was born in Knoxville, Tenn., and was a graduate of the University of Tennessee and of Harvard. Before he was nominated as an Associate Justice he had practiced law in his native state and was a Federal Judge.

He was an Assistant Attorney General of the United States in 1907 and 1908 and frequently appeared before the court during that period.

The Justice's death was credited by friends of the family to a sudden attack of uremic poisoning, which developed about 10:30 o'clock this morning. A physician was summoned immediately and the Justice succumbed shortly after 12 o'clock. Mrs. Sanford was with him at the time but other relatives including a daughter, Mrs. George Cameron, were out of the city. Mrs. Cameron is at present in Florida. They have been summoned.

Philadelphia Coppers On Bear Hunt Today

Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—(UP)—West Philadelphia police staged a bear hunt today, finally killing a brute that had chased, or frightened two Negro garage workers to the top of an automobile.

Residents of the district sent in numerous calls when the animal was seen ambling through the streets. When police arrived the bear was not in sight but shrieks from the "treed garage attendants" disclosed its whereabouts. A fusillade of shots reduced the city's bear population by one.

The presence of the animal in that locality was unexplained.

GIRL MURDERED AND BODY CUT UP AND BURNED

Mutilated Body in Burn- ing Summer Cottage Near Waukegan

Lake Villa, Ill., Mar. 8.—(UP)—The mutilated body of a young woman, burned to a blackened mass, was found in the ruins of a cabin in a deserted summer resort on the shores of Deep Lake near here early today, a gruesome clue, police believe, to a murder and an incendiary fire to hide its traces.

The head, legs and arms were missing and police expressed the opinion they had been hacked off before the body was burned.

All means of identifying the body had been burned away but police said the condition of the body led them to believe the woman might have been the victim of gangsters known to haunt the summer resort throughout the winter when the cabins are not occupied by the owners.

The body was discovered by members of the Antioch fire department after they had been summoned to the blazing cabin by Edward Schram, 49, a caretaker who has charge of the burned cottage and several others.

Odor of Gasoline.
Firemen said they detected the odor of gasoline, a further indication that the cottage was set afire deliberately. It had not been occupied since last summer and there was no way it could have caught fire from within the caretaker said.

A speeding automobile, noticed by Schram, the caretaker, an hour before he saw the cottage ablaze, was believed a possible clue to the identity of the nocturnal visitors whose visit it ended, supposedly, in the murder.

Schram said he saw the automobile race northward along the lonely road that leads to the main road into Waukegan. His attention was attracted by the excessive speed and the fact that motorists are rare in the deserted summer resort.

State's Attorney A. V. Smith and Sheriff Lawrence A. Doolittle of Lake County, were summoned and took charge of the body. It was later removed to an undertaking establishment in Waukegan to be held for a coroner's examination.

Henning Johnson, owner of the cottage in which the body was found, is in Cuba with his wife, the caretaker said.

Efforts to extinguish the fire were futile. After the walls collapsed firemen walked through the ruins and saw the woman's body.

LOVELORN INDIAN MAIDEN INCITED SQUAW TO CRIME

Oujia Board And Tribal Superstition Figure In Brutal Murder

Buffalo, N. Y., March 8.—(AP)—Two Indian women were in jail today charged with murder after police said one had confessed she used a ouija board and tribal superstitions to incite her aged accomplice to kill Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, noted artist.

The unrequited love of Miss Lillian Jimerson, 39 year old Seneca Indian for Henri Marchand, distinguished nature artist of the Buffalo museum of science, and husband of the victim, police said, was the motive for the killing. Miss Jimerson had worked as a model for Marchand.

Mrs. Marchand's body was found Thursday by her 12 year old son. She had been beaten on the head and strangled with a wad of chloroform-soaked paper and cloth.

Arrested yesterday, Lillian or Lilac, as she was known, implicated Mrs. Nancy Bowen, 66 years old, and told how she worked upon the old squaw's superstitious belief in witchcraft and black magic to bring about the killing.

Finally Mrs. Bowen agreed to kill Mrs. Marchand, police said Miss Jimerson told them.

With an ounce bottle of chloroform and a hammer Mrs. Bowen went to the Marchand home. After felling her victim, she choked her, then thrust the wad of chloroform soaked paper into her throat, police said Mrs. Bowen told them.

PRESBYTERIANS TO EASE OBSERVANCE OF DIVORCE RULES

Broad Interpretation Ad- vised By Assembly Committee

Chicago, March 8.—(AP)—A committee of the Presbyterian general assembly, after spending three months in the study of divorce and kindred subjects, has decided it would be "imprudent" for ministers to adhere to strict maintenance of the church code on divorce and remarriage.

The report which the committee composed of six ministers and five elders will submit to the next general assembly was completed yesterday. Immediately afterward one of the committee members predicted that the liberalization recommendation would result in "a spirited controversy among the congregation."

One brief paragraph disclosed the committee's view on liberalizing the northern branch of the church; it read:

"We recommend that since the new testament ordains at least the two grounds which are now recognized in our standard, adultery and irremedial desertion, it would seem imprudent to standardize the ministry in the church upon the church law, for each case must be studied upon its own merits."

Continuing, the ministers and elders realized that "this liberty is likely to be abused by some ministers, but it is right in principle and will be honored by the great majority of the ministers of Jesus Christ seeking to observe the spirit of his life and teachings."

The committee was unanimous in the belief that the federal government should adopt a uniform code on marriage and divorce.

NORTH WIND
O NCE more, strong brother,
Cometh your cry.
Bold as no other,
Filling the sky.
Foaming the river,
Scouring the plain.
Setting a-shiver
The stars again.

Welcome, O bough-breaker,
Welcome, your strokes,
World-trampler, earth-shaker,
Wrestler with oaks!

Harper iron-fisted,
With fingers of steel,
Batter your ice-trusted
Harp-strings; O deal
Sternly with languor
And harshly with ease,
Call us with clangor
Vast voice from the seas!

From the numberless lunging
Waves of the pole
Where the walrus is plunging
And white whales roll.
Lift again, brother,
Your huge glad cry,
Bold as no other,
Filling the sky.

ODELL SHEPARD.

Missionary Meeting Thursday at Clayton Home Well Attended

One of the largest meetings of the year of the W. F. M. S. of the M. E. church was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. W. Clayton with forty-nine present.

"The Church's One Foundation Is Jesus Christ Our Lord" was sung as the opening hymn, and prayer followed by Mrs. Hobbs.

Mrs. Ioder began the devotionals with the reading of the hymn "Be Strong We Are Not Here to Drift."

The Scripture lesson was Joshua 1, 9 and several other verses along the line of strength and sympathy. Several short prayers were offered in which the World's Day of Prayer was remembered. In conclusion, all joined in singing the Prayer Hymn, "Lead On, O King Eternal."

All were urged by Mrs. Ware to attend the group meeting to be held in Morrison, Friday, March 21. Miss Jones will be one of the speakers in the afternoon.

Our Thank Offering Service will be held in the church, Sunday, March 16. Miss Dorothy Jones, whom we have been helping to support in China for twenty-six years will be the speaker. It was decided that we would work and pray for a goal of not less than $150 as a Thank Offering.

It was voted to conduct a food and bake sale on April 12, also, that we would have a picnic dinner at the church at our Founder's Day, meeting on April 3.

The President spoke of the loss to our society of three of its members, Mrs. Hasselberg, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Pitcher.

Three new members were reported by the membership committee for last month. Miss Morgan appointed Mrs. Stark and Miss Decker to act on the committee for new members this month on the north side and Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Sodergren on the south side.

Our new extension secretary, Mrs. Brewster, was introduced and said a few words along the line of her work.

Mrs. Randall conducted a short program on Christian Stewardship. With poems, hymns and Scripture verses which applied to Prayer, Service and Possession, we found the way to obtain happiness in Stewardship is to pray, work and give.

Mrs. Sheffield read a story of a woman who was so busy doing things in club, church and home that she was "too tired to pray." She found the secret of having time and strength to do the most worthwhile things was by acknowledging the stewardship of personality. In finding out God's will as to herself she could do the important things leaving others to run the club, etc.

"The Unfinished Task" from the Study Book, "From Jerusalem to Jerusalem" was presented by Miss Seals. It told of our unfinished work among the millions of Indians in the Americas and of the untouchables in Asia and Africa which contain millions of people not yet included in the future program of any missionary society. The 200 millions of Moslems are considered by some to be the main force in the enemy against Christianity and are not to be neglected if the peace and security of the world are to be assured. Instead of being at the end of our missionary enterprise we are just beginning and since God has honored this generation as no other by opening the doors and laying at our feet every advantage and facility, it behooves us to heed the call "Go ye, and baptize all nations."

Nice refreshments were served by Mrs. Bennett's unit.

A duet "Have You Been To The Garden?" was sung by Rev. and Mrs. Paul Gordon of Bethel church.

A testimony meeting followed. A collection amounting to $9.16 was taken. This will be sent to the United Boards for their work.

The meeting was dismissed by the benediction pronounced by the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Mr. George McWethy led the singing. The meeting was inter-denominational and the attendance was large.

The March meeting of the M. B. C. club was held at the home of Mrs. James R. Hawkins on 4th St., Thursday.

A very delicious one o'clock luncheon was served. The flowers, nut cups, etc., were in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

Everyone regretted not having the Secretary, Mrs. Raymond Derr present, as she was in the Freeport Hospital. It is hoped she will be with the club for the next meeting.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in social chat.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clyde Emmert, the first Thursday in April.

All departed having had a very delightful time, voting Mrs. Hawkins a wonderful hostess.

March Meet P. T. A. of Prairieville Largely Attended on Thursday

The March meeting of the Prairieville P. T. A. held at the Prairieville church on Thursday evening, March 6, was attended by one of the largest gatherings of the year, which listened to an excellent program by the pupils.

Prior to the program, a business meeting was called and after the usual routine business, the annual election of officers was held. The report of the nominating committee was read and the following officers declared elected:

President—L. A. Thummel
Vice Pres.—L. T. Powers
Sec.—Treas.—Mrs. Chas. Manon.
Miss Clara McCune, instructor in music in the school, explained that the program was to be given by the Junior Mendelsohn Club and that the Mendelsohn club, of other schools of the township had been invited and were present. She asked these members to stand, with their teachers. Miss McCune then introduced the officers of the Prairieville Junior Mendelsohn club, Alice Staller, President; Frances Maumen, V. Pres.; and Leland Myers, Sec. Treas. The President took charge of the meeting and announced the program number by number.

The Primary room pupils gave a short program the first numbers, by the whole room, consisting of St. Patrick's Day songs and riddles, given in a snappy manner. The pupils all wore green and white caps decorated with shamrocks and the first grade pupils, 3 little girls gave "Five Little Frogs." Two character songs followed by Eileen Bradley and chorus and John Reury and chorus.

The Mendelsohn Club program was then opened, with the calling of the roll of members by the secretary, each member answering the roll by naming a musical composer with the date of his birth and death. Several numbers followed:

A piano duet by Frances Rutt and Helen Miller.
Booster Song "Prairieville Will Shine."
Paper on the Life of Mendelsohn, by Francis Maumen.

Two songs by the boys of the club, "Mary Had a Little Lamb" and "The Busy Bee".
Song by the girls of the club.

Both of these were part songs, instead of the usual choruses, and showed through training which brought out the natural musical ability of the pupils.

An action song "Dwarfs", by the boys was very clever and amusing and proved to be the most popular number of the program.

The last number was a pantomime, well acted out, by both boys and girls with Helen Cash reading the story.

Following the program refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cookies, pickles and coffee were served by the hospitality committee.

Jovial Club Meets with Raymond Crawford

The members of the Jovial club were most delightfully entertained Thursday evening at the pleasant country home of Raymond Crawford.

A brief business meeting was presided over by Miss Edna Switzer, as mistress of ceremonies. The members voted to give a play, place and time of which will be announced later.

Fred Shick was elected Master of Ceremonies for the next two meetings. A reading was given by Betty Meppen.

The meeting was then turned over to the host, who had games prepared for the evening. There were four prizes awarded, the winners being Miss Eleanor Buckaloo, and Fred Liewan, who won first prizes; and Avis Lievan and John Spangler, who won second prizes.

Delicious refreshments were served by the host's mother, bringing the pleasant evening to a close.

Miss Marietta DePuy will be the hostess to the club at the next meeting, which will be held on March 28.

Missionary Society Met With Mrs. Shippert, Thursday P. M.

The topic for consideration was, "The Younger and Older Churches, based on the study book, "Roads to the City of God." At the close of the lesson study, the president proceeded with the business of the society after which the meeting was closed with prayer.

A delightful social time followed, when the hostesses, Mrs. Ed Shippert, Mrs. George Weidman and Mrs. John Weigle, served dainty and tempting refreshments. This closed a profitable and instructive afternoon.

Boyer-Moeller Wedding Celebrated This Afternoon

A marriage of much interest to Dixon friends was solemnized this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the parsonage to St. Paul's Lutheran church with Rev. Lloyd Warren Walter, the pastor, officiating at the simple, yet impressive ceremony, which united the lives of Miss Helen C. Boyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Boyer of Harrison avenue, this city, and Seavey Moeller, of Chicago, son of Mrs. Ellen E. Moeller of N. Dixon avenue, Dixon.

The bride and bridegroom were attended by Harold R. Boyer, brother of the bride, and Miss Elvira Alt-peter of Chicago. The lovely bride, who was daintily attired in a charming gown of blue, and carried a bride's bouquet, wore no ornament save the gift of the bridegroom, a beautiful diamond platinum brooch. The maid of honor wore a pretty frock in green and carried pink roses.

After the ceremony the bridal party and the immediate relatives were entertained with a wedding dinner at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, on Harrison avenue. The Boyer home was gay with spring flowers and ferns. The table at which the dinner was served, was decorated in pink and white, a dainty centerpiece of pink carnations and ferns being placed beneath the white wedding bell suspended from the chandelier over the table. Pink and white favors and nut cups further carried out the pink and white effect.

After the dinner an informal reception was held for Mr. and Mrs. Moeller who are leaving in the morning to make their home in Chicago, where the bridegroom has a nicely furnished apartment.

Seavey Moeller is connected with the time service department of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, and is a most industrious and exemplary young man. He is a representative of one of the old and esteemed families of this city, and his bride's family is also one of Dixon's old and most highly regarded. Mrs. Moeller, who has been employed in the office of the Brown Shoe Co., is one of Dixon's charming and popular young women. The friends of both young people join in wishing them every happiness for the future. For her traveling costume the bride will be gowned in tan, with hat and accessories in the same color, and she will wear a beautiful brown fox fur.

FIDO STEPS OUT IN VIVID COLORS

The military note was particularly dominant for the terriers, many of them sporting scarlet and blue sets with gold braid.

HOW SELFISHNESS FAILS.

Shortly after Dr. Snook was electrocuted in the Ohio State penitentiary, Warden P. E. Thomas wrote a little character study of the man, basing it on his observation of him as a prisoner and on many talks he had with him.

Now Snook, of course, is well forgotten; yet one or two of the warden's remarks about him are worth looking at—not because Snook was a noteworthy person, but because it is interesting to see just how a murderer differs from an ordinary fellow.

The outstanding trait in Snook's character, says Warden Thomas, was selfishness. Snook lived for himself alone. He used all of his actions on the way they would affect himself; he made all of his decisions with himself, and only himself, in view.

So it was that Snook got himself entangled in a sordid love affair and committed a murder to get out of it.

Probably there wasn't as wide a gulf between Snook and the rest of us, in that one respect, as we like to think.
Snook was supremely selfish—but genuine selfishness is not from being a universal trait. He shaped all of his life in the aim of pleasing himself before anyone else—and so, a slightly lesser degree, do most of the rest of us.

This, of course, does not mean that we are all potential murderers. But it does mean that we are not quite as far removed from him as we might choose to imagine. He had our common vice of selfishness; he merely carried it a bit farther than the ordinary man does.

There is another point worth considering, too, in connection with this selfishness of Snooks.

Snook was supremely selfish—and because of his selfishness he wound up by getting himself into the worst mess imaginable.

His very desire to make his own life pleasant and enjoyable kept it from being that and turned it into a tragedy.
His selfishness, in other words, defeated itself.

That is the way things often work out in this world. The man who is eternally "looking out for number one" is apt to be outstripped, in the pursuit of happiness, by the chap who takes it his rule to look out for someone else's welfare. To put yourself first all of the time is likely to mean, someday, that you will find yourself last.

All of which, to conclude, is simply another way of stating a very old truth—a truth that is best said in the significant phrase, "He that saveth his life shall lose it."

UPSETTING AN OLD MAXIM.

Strict attention to business and a conscientious exclusion from the mind of all trivial matters are supposed to be the main keys to success in this modern world. But every so often something happens to make you wonder.

Consider the case of the late Alexander P. Moore, former ambassador to Spain and Peru.

Mr. Moore was eminently useful as an ambassador. He served his country well, and helped make Spain forget the unpleasantness of 1898. He succeeded in his diplomatic career very admirably.

Yet Mr. Moore was a playboy; and it was precisely this quality that made him such a good ambassador. He liked fun, liked good times, liked to play around; and those likes of his endeared him to the King of Spain and the Spanish court and gave him a value, as a diplomat, that a more serious, business-like man would not have had.

DRAWING ON SAVINGS.

As the October stock market crash passes farther back into history, it grows more and more apparent that the frenzy of speculation that preceded it was not at all a good thing for the country.

A clip sheet from the American Bankers' Association reveals that last year, for the first time in 20 years, the amount of money deposited in the nation's savings banks diminished. The shrinkage amounted to more than $195,000,000 during the 12 months—an amazing situation, in view of the fact that savings in the year previous increased by more than $2,300,000,000.

The Bankers' Association blames the recession largely on the lure of the stock market, which led people to withdraw their savings in order to speculate in stocks; and it believes that deposits this year will increase again, now that the market boom has collapsed.

It's possible that the Follies girl who quit Broadway to enter a California college will be in a class by herself.

A New York society offers a prize for the most artistic design of an ash can. We'll wager one of those collegiate fliv-vers wins first place.

"How would I ever face St. Peter," said General Smuts,
"if I died without seeing America?" He should tell that to his fellow countryman, George Bernard Shaw.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Hey! Stop this plane," one Tiny cried. "It's turning over on its side. We'll land kerflop down on the earth if something isn't done. Gee!
Everybody hang on tight. The way we're falling is a fright! We started out for pleasure, but this sure is far from fun."

"Course Scouty still was at the wheel. He shouted loudly, "Say!
Don't squeal right in my ear. Let me alone. I'll do the best I can.
The rubber's broken on our plane and trying to steer's almost in vain.
It's hard to think the plane's no good. Just think how well it ran."

Then Scouty gave the wheel a spin and Clowdy, with a sickly grin, said,
"It's no use to try that 'cause it will not work at all. We're at the mercy of the air and you can't steer us anywhere. I think that we are doomed because the plane is bound to fall."

But, just then came a big surprise. A puff of wind, up in the skies, whirled round the plane until it seemed the plane was standing still. "Why, look! We've straightened out again. We have some good luck, now and then," said Carpy.

"I just wish that we could land and end this thrill."

The plane then floated slowly round and shortly tilted toward the ground. "Hurray! Hurray!" one Tiny cried. "We're coasting to a stop. If we can calmly float like this, I doubt if things will go amiss.
I think we're pretty lucky that we float instead of drop."

The next thing that the Tines knew, they landed on some water bush. The plane just settled on a wave. They thought that it would stop. But instead of that it skimmed along before a wind that blew real strong. A foaming wave was holding it quite safely right on top.

(Are the Tines to get a ducking?
We will see in the next story.)

JUSTICE HOLMES' BIRTH

On March 8, 1841, Oliver Wendell Holmes, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, was born at Boston.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, in 1861, the same year he graduated from Harvard, young Holmes enlisted and served for three years in the 20th Massachusetts Volunteers. He was wounded three times—at Ball's Bluff, Antietam and Fredericksburg. By the end of the war he had risen to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

In 1864 he began the study of law at Harvard and three years later was admitted to the bar. After considerable experience in the practice, writing and teaching of law, Holmes was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of Massachusetts. He occupied this position for 17 years, becoming chief justice on Aug. 2, 1899.
On Dec. 4, 1902, he became assistant justice of the U. S. supreme court.
As a judge, his opinions always have favored a liberal interpretation of the Constitution. He was awarded in 1924 the Roosevelt Memorial Association medal for the development of public law.

Justice Holmes' father was Oliver Wendell Holmes, famous New England poet and essayist.

teeth is just before going to bed, because if they are cleaned at this time they will be clean for half of the twenty-four hours.

Dental floss should be used to move the particles of food that become wedged between the teeth. It is not possible to brush out this wedged-in material and the use of a tooth pick is likely to crack the enamel. If teeth are allowed to decay and their usefulness becomes impaired, there is bound to be an extra burden thrown upon the digestive system. This extra work is going to mean, sooner or later, digestive disorders and disease. But there is a much more serious aspect of the matter. The poisons produced by, and in, germ infested teeth, are carried to every part of the body, causing damage to, or destruction of any of the vital organs.

And when you are doing your best to feed your teeth properly, and keep them healthy, remember that two visits a year to your dentist will save you pain, trouble, and money in the end.

Dr. Cook Paroled From Leavenworth

Washington, March 7.—(UP)—Dr.
Frederick A. Cook, former arctic explorer, physician and oil promoter, was ordered paroled from Leavenworth prison today by Attorney General Mitchell.

Cook has been serving a sentence of 14 years and 9 months following his conviction at Fort Worth, Tex., on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Dr. Cook, who won a short-lived world fame in 1909 when he claimed to be the first man ever to reach the north pole, has been prisoner No.
23,118 at Leavenworth for four years and 11 months, thus having served one third of his sentence.

After his claims to having reached the north pole were discredited, Cook did not gain notice again until 1921 when he appeared in Texas as promoter for the Petroleum Producers Association.

The association was a combination of defunct oil companies which claimed it had two gigantic oil gushers producing 20,000 barrels a day.
The prosecution in Dr. Cook's case contended the wells would pump but 10 barrels daily.

Cook, now a gray-haired man of 64, is said to be anxious to face the world again for "another chance."

FREE REIGN FOR KIDS IS ADVICE OF SPECIALISTS

Say Willie will be Bigger and Better Man
for Pulling Cat's Tail

Chicago, March 7.—(UP)—Let baby pull the cat's tail if he wants to, he will grow up to be a better man for such early self expression.

Nevertheless, he will not be a member of society until he falls in love years later, at about high school freshman age.

Those are gleanings from the fifth annual conference of the Chicago association for child study and parent education meetings at the Palmer House to study the emotional life of the child.

That little Willie or Emma will get along much better, perhaps, without too much parental intervention was the premise of Dr. Otto Rank Parisian psychoanalyst who studied under Sigmund Freud for 20 years.

"Early education ought first of all, to develop a child's given impulse disposition, not correct it," Dr.
Rank said.

Dr. Edward S. Ames, professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago, was authority for the first love affair marking entrance of the child into society.

"Up to that time," he said, "the child is an individualist, with marked anti-social tendencies. Young children co-operate with each other only an emotional basis. Realization of love brings realization of the importance of others in the social system."

PURCHASER NOT GUILTY
Boston, Mar. 7.—(AP)—Federal Judge James M. Morton today handed down a decision ruling that purchase of liquor is not a crime under the national prohibition act. The decision was given in the case of James Farrar of Watertown, recently indicted for purchasing two pints of liquor. Judge Morton's decision approximately covered ten typewritten pages.

Woman's Club Notes

The Woman's Club met March 3 with Miss Clara Lauman. The program was planned by the Department of Conservation, and was the culmination of the bird house and sewing contests sponsored by the club. The roll call response for the day was: "Name a Native Wild Flower," and a large number of flowers, mostly native to our own home woods, were mentioned.

Considerable business was brought before the club, one of the most important items being adoption of a revised constitution and by-laws, which better fits the needs of the club than the old. Two important changes were made, the method of election and a reduction of yearly dues, beginning with June 1st, to $1.50 per year. A resolution passed by the General (National) Federation of Woman's Clubs was adopted. This will be explained further on.

Then came an inspection of the bird houses and aprons, which had been made by the 7th and 8th grades of the local school. Much appreciation was expressed of the good work done in both classes, which showed fine instruction and supervision in manual art work, also enthusiastic cooperation of the boys and girls.

The club wishes they might have been able to give individual recognition to everyone cooperating but this seemed impossible. However, all were agreed that the good workmanship was not confined to those receiving special recognition, but was shown in every apron and every bird house entered. Each individual participating may feel that he or she has created an article different from all others, for they made their own designs and patterns first, then used them in working out the final results. This makes the difference between handcraft and machine work and is one of the most worth-while principles of living—to create and develop something individual and original.

At the close of school the pupils of the 7th and 8th grades, accompanied by their teacher, Miss Oma Mentzer, came to the club meeting for the program on birds and flowers.

Miss Dorothy Durkes gave a very interesting talk on our common birds and their habits and told also of some of our wild flowers, particularly those now protected by law from ruthless destruction and extinction.

Miss Mentzer then read the names of the boys and girls receiving individual recognition in the two contests and explained the points stressed by the judges in their decisions. The judges in both classes felt that theirs was a most difficult duty because of the nearly equal merit of the entries. Their decisions were made with no knowledge whatever of the owners, all entries being made by number. In the bird house class, practical value and adaptability to the bird were the first consideration, in the judging of aprons, the skill shown in the drawing and working out of the decorative designs. In both classes, neatness and effort were also considered.

Messrs. Chas. Baker and Frank Senger were judges of the bird houses while the apron judges were, Mrs. Fagley and Mrs. James Conlon and Miss Maude Conlon. The winners in each contest received $1.25, $1.00 and 75c respectively. Fourth and fifth received honorable mention, with ribbons. The list of boys as ranked by the judges—1. Bernell Cluts, 2. Jack Kelley, 3. Francis Maronde, 4. Earl Hunt, 5. Ralph Sunday, 6. Scott Stultz, 7. Russell Group, 8. Donald Zoeller and 9. Lawrence Maronde.

The list of girls as ranked by the judges: 1. Bernice Cluts, 2. Lucille Buck, 3. Joan Fish, 4. Norma Maronde, 5. Lucille Vocum, 6. Barbara Group, 6. Helen Vocum, 7. Jean Maronde, 8. Gretchen Trenholm.

Have you not often wished as you motored on our splendid highways that the natural beauty of the woodlands and fields might be preserved? Why should scenic roadways be marred by advertising billboards which spoil their natural beauty. There is much agitation these days for regaining the beautiful views which might greet us were they not hidden by unsightly billboards. This agitation has led the Committee on Rural Highway Advertising of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to pass a resolution saying: "We recommend that club women give consideration to those firms which do not advertise on the landscape." In other words we might adopt the slogan: "Favor the Firms Which Favor the Scenery." In line with this idea, the members of the local Woman's Club who were present at the last meeting signed a pledge supporting this policy and we believe that concerted action of like clubs over the country will soon make advertisers feel that it will pay them to keep off the landscape and that we prefer products not advertised on billboards.

To Re-organize Boy Scouts

Reorganization meeting of the Boy Scouts will be held Tuesday night, March 18, in the high school building. Fifteen local men have signified their intention of attending this meeting. Field Scout Executive Adelbert V. Newman visited here Wednesday and made arrangements. Any interested in Boy Scout work are invited to be present.

Mens' Club

The Mens' Club will meet in the Methodist church next Tuesday evening, March 11. At this time the wives of members will be guests. The dinner will be served at 6:30. A good speaker will be present and a happy evening is looked forward to. All men should be there, with their wives.

P. T. A. Program

The next Parent-Teachers meeting will be held at the school on Friday evening, March 14. The following program has been arranged:

A Novel Plan

In previous years, the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary have held an annual market when everyone was invited to donate something that could be sold. Instead of doing this, a new plan is being used this year, whereby they feel that more of the neighbors and friends of the unfortunate soldier will be reached. The Auxiliary has adopted an envelope system. The idea is this: by actual count it has been found that sixteen pennies make a foot. Each envelope holds a foot or more pennies. The ladies are trying to place an envelope in every home and thus give every one an opportunity of helping with the work that the American Legion and its Auxiliary are carrying on. Many of you are saying that there are 63,000 disabled veterans confined in the United States hospitals, for whom the war will never be over. It is the purpose of the American Legion Auxiliary to aid all unfortunate soldiers or their families in any way possible, so when you are asked to give a foot or more of pennies, you are having the privilege of helping in this worthy cause.

Farm House Burned

A fire totally destroyed the farm residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schaefer six miles southwest of this place Monday afternoon. The fire started beneath the roof and all efforts to quell it were of no avail. Neighbors and friends had gathered to lend assistance in every possible manner. While the flames were retarded enough by a bucket brigade to enable practically all of the contents to be removed still that protection was insufficient to save the house, but the out buildings were all saved. Insurance was carried.

Presbyterian Church.

9:30—Sunday School. P. C. Gross, Supt. Classes for all.

Misses Blanche Colwell and Marion Buck will be in charge. An invitation is extended to the young people of the community.

Pastor's message:

Sow an act and you reap a habit; Sow a habit and you reap a character;

Sow a character and you reap a destiny.

Mr. and Mrs. John Charters, Ministry of Music.

Come On With the News

Now that good weather is here and you will be going here and there in your autos for a day's visit, remember that the only way we can know about it is for you to call 102 and tell us about it. If you prefer mail us your items. We want the news, you want to read the news, and if we help one another, all will be happy.

Silver Wedding Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Gross were both completely surprised Saturday evening at which time a group of their friends "dropped in" to make memorable their 25th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Gross both were completely surprised by the happy crowd. A scramble dinner at 6:30 o'clock was most heartily enjoyed after which bridge was enjoyed at which Mrs. William Crawford won first prize for ladies and Mrs. Wilbur Dysart the second. Miss Mildred Leake won first for gentlemen and J. W. Cover the second. Ice cream and cake were served, the cake having been made by Mrs. L. A. Trotter and was beautifully decorated in keeping with the occasion. Mr. Spunner presented a beautiful silver service to Mr. and Mrs. Gross in behalf of the guests, to which a hearty response was spoken of both the recipients. The occasion was an exceedingly happy one which was most thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. Among those in attendance were Mr. B. F. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Leake and family of Amboy, Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson and family of Lee Center, Kenneth Gross, Mr. Vernon, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Spunner of Barrington, Miss Winnifred Hausen of Mendota, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hausen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kesselring, Mr. and Mrs. John Cover, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Trotter, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gross and daughter, Miss Carrie, Mrs. A. W. Crawford, Mr. Virgie, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dysart, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wendel, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Dysart, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt were unable to be present but contributed their share toward making the affair a success.

Brethren Church

Sunday evening our evangelistic meeting closed with a record crowd and high interest. Rev. and Mrs. Austin left Monday evening for Chicago where they will spend a few days at the ministerial conference at Bethany Bible School after which they will go to Altona, Pa., for their next meeting. They have made many friends in our community and our best wishes and prayers will attend them. On Sunday afternoon seven applicants were received into the church by baptism and at least two more have made the good choice. Next Sunday we expect a minister from Bethany Bible School to be with us. Let us keep up our interest in the work of the kingdom. The mid-week service will continue and we encourage all who can to attend.

O. D. Buck, Elder.

Methodist Church

9:30 Sunday School. 10:30 Morning Worship. The subject will be: "The Need of Constant Devotion to Christ." Attend Sunday school and morning worship. The union mid-week service will be held next Wednesday night. A very cordial welcome to everyone.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church

Special Lenten service Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. Once again the sacred season of Lent is here. During this season we conduct special services in order to bring before us the fact how our Savior suffered, bled and died to pay that huge debt of sin so that we may escape the torments of the damned and through faith in Him possess now and forevermore life eternal. During Lent the pastor will preach a series of sermons on the general theme: "What Shall I Do With Jesus?" Sunday night he will try to answer the question: "Shall I Betray Him?" These services should be well attended. You are welcome to attend all of our services.

P. W. Henke, Minister

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. George H. Johnson on Wednesday afternoon Mar. 5.

Letters from the Chicago Municipal Tuberculosis Sanitarium were read. Mrs. Grace Breunier, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee gave out the Dime Calendars. Each calendar is to be completed by Mar. 1, 1931 and should then contain one dollar. The names of three new members were recorded. The president, Mrs. Ruth Hussey, reported that the Unit had received a citation for having been one of the first Units in the state to attain a 100 per cent membership. 63 cents was received in the penny March. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bert Morgan on Mar. 19.

Following is one of the letters received by the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 497. It is from the Theodore B. Sachs Post No. 349. This American Legion Post is composed entirely of disabled veterans who are confined at the Municipal Tuberculosis Hospital at Chicago. Since so many in the community so kindly sent home-made cookies and candy when the Auxiliary was packing the boxes we feel that you should be given the opportunity of reading at least one of these letters so that you may know these boys appreciate anything that is sent to them.

Mrs. Ruth Hussey, Pres., American Legion Auxiliary, Unit No. 497, Franklin Grove, Ill.

Dear Mrs. Hussey:—We wish to take this opportunity of thanking you and the ladies of Unit No. 497 for the delicious cookies sent to us on February 14th. All of the boys certainly enjoyed these cookies and will not forget the kindness and thoughtfulness of yourself and the ladies of your Unit in so remembering us.

Again thanking you, and with kindest regards to all, we are,

Very Truly Yours,

Theodore B. Sachs, Post No. 349 American Legion.

(Signed) N. S. McCarthy, Adjutant.

RUTH SAYS HE WILL QUIT IF PAY'S DENIED

Ultimatum Is Sent To Ruppert and Shawkey by Babe

St. Petersburg, Fla., Mar. 8.—(UP)—Babe Ruth issued an ultimatum today that if he is not given a two-year contract calling for $170,000 salary, by 3 P. M. today he will retire.

The home-run hitter, who yesterday failed to reach an agreement with Colonel Jacob Ruppert of the New York Yankees, sent his ultimatum to Ruppert and Bob Shawkey, the Yankee manager. He had refused an agreement for $60,000 a season for two seasons or $55,000 for this season.

In his ultimatum Ruth said he would turn in his uniform after the practice game with the Boston Braves in event the demand was not met and that turning in of the uniform would mean retirement until the Yankee leaders had met his demands.

"I owe it to myself to protect myself against possible injury while Col. Ruppert is considering my demands," Ruth said. "I am sorry to take this stand, but after talking it over with Mrs. Ruth and with friends of mine, I came to the conclusion that there was no other course open to me."

When Col. Ruppert received the Ruth ultimatum, he said that it was up to Babe to do as he pleased, and that the club had made its final offer.

"I Ruth wants to turn in his uniform and quit the squad, that is his own business," said the Colonel. "In offering him $60,000 a season, for two years, I exceeded anything which the Babe may be worth at the gate. I have gone the limit."

Georgetown University Goes Notre Dame

Georgetown University of Washington, D. C., is molding her football teams after the style of Knute Rockne, the Notre Dame wizard, and the four men above are expected to do the molding. Colrick, 22, is said to be the youngest college coach in the country and with Moynihan played regularly on the unbeaten 1929 Notre Dame eleven. ## The usual things

IT IS DIFFICULT to imagine the world today without some of the things that make our living in it so pleasant and comfortable. How naturally we lift the telephone receiver, step into an automobile, and look for the news of the world in the newspaper—every day of our lives.

Another of these usual, invaluable things, accepted as part of the routine of existence, is the guidance given by the advertisements in this newspaper in supplying our wants from day to day. We read them. They help us to save time and money. And our lives go on—more easily and more fully.

Every day the advertisements suggest ways in which we can get things we want with the greatest possible satisfaction to ourselves. ## RUNNER DYING; ARMORED BOAT HAD 1000 CASES

Coast Guards Capture Rum Runner In One- Sided Fight

Lorain, O., March 7.—(AP)—A man who said he was Fred Hentrie, Detroit, probably was fatally wounded and a companion who gave his name as Joe Hanna, was captured by coast guardsmen who fired on an armor plated tug midway between Lorain and Cleveland today. The tug carried a cargo of 1,000 cases of liquor, the guardsmen said.

Captain J. T. Hagelove of the coast guard boat said the tug failed to heed his orders to halt and turned about in a clumsy effort to escape after two warning shots were fired. Captain Hagelove ordered his crew of eight men to fire directly with a one-pounder air rifle.

The tug was bombarded for a time before the coast guardsmen went aboard. They met with no resistance. Hentrie was found with two bullet wounds in his back and hospital attendants said he probably would die. The captured tug was the "Sambo G" of Port Stanley, Ont., coast guardsmen said, it is 65 feet long and powered with a large gasoline motor.

The protective armor consisted of sheets of five-eighths inch steel fastened almost entirely around the hull, nearly to the water line, and around the engine room and pilot house walls.

A. RANGER TYLER, EDITOR OF THE PLATTSBURGH (N. Y.) REPUBLICAN, SAYS:

THAT a great deal of waste effort is being spent on trying to cut the navies of the world when practically everything the delegates are discussing pertains to an outmoded instrument of war.

It has been pointed out how futile was the battle of Jutland during the World War. After it was all over, neither side could be said to have accomplished anything but the killing off of a large number of men and the sinking of several millions of dollars worth of ships that were devoted to practically no other purpose than the one for which they were used.

Given, under the most favorable auspices, that the London naval conference succeeds in cutting or even limiting sea armament within certain range, still the most powerful weapon of the next war-and there will be one unless nationalism loses some of its unreasoning rampancy-will exist in the air. It is natural that no mention of aircraft, except as concerns airplane carriers, should enter the present discussions. But there is more need of a plan to limit and cut the program of war aircraft construction than there is on navies.

Within the limits of reason, all building of warships, large or small, could be abandoned today and no power would suffer one whit by the omission. The scrapping of present ships, built or planned, could be considered almost in the same light.

The deadliness and effectiveness of aircraft in warfare is far greater per unit of money spent than any other arm at the present time. If the proponents of world peace are as earnest in their desire as they would have us believe, they should not neglect an immediate and thorough consideration of these facts. Armies and navies will prove insignificant, especially in Europe, where the next war will probably develop, as compared to what can be accomplished with aircraft.

LET THERE BE A GENERAL DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE, THEREFORE, IN THE NEAR FUTURE, ONE GIVING SPECIAL ATTENTION TO AIR FORCES AND DEVICES, IF PEACE IS THE REAL AIM OF THE WORLD AND ITS STATESMEN.

ROSE ANN MCGUIRK

Miss Rose Ann McGuirk was the second of seven children, the daughter of William and Bridget Brogan McGuirk. She was born July 18th, 1857 in Hanneman township, Whiteside County, and came to Walton with her parents, when a young girl. In 1911 she moved to Amboy where she has since resided.

Declaring that one bad season won't make her relinquish her baseball club, Miss Florence Killilea, president and owner of the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association, is determined to fight back and produce a winner this year. Miss Killilea's first season as president of a Class AAA ball team last year caused a serious financial strain on the Killilea pocketbook, according to Executive Secretary Louis Nahin. The above photo shows Miss Killilea discussing 1930 prospects for a first division team with Secretary Nahin.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

THE CRIME: Doris Matthews, lady's maid, murdered Friday night in summerhouse by blow with heavy perfume flask; body dumped into lake on estate of millionaire Berkeley.

DETECTIVES: Bonnie Dundee, guest at time of crime and discoverer of body; Captain Strawn of the Homicide Squad.

MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLD: Mrs. GEORGE BERKELEY, social climber; George Berkeley, opposed to his daughter CLORINDA's engagement to SEYMOUR CROSBY.

New York society widow and a close friend of Mrs. Berkeley's, social secretary MRS. LETITIA LAMBERT; CLORINDA Berkeley, engaged to Crosby; GIGI Berkeley, who unaccountably sprinkled all guests Friday night with perfume from flask presented by Crosby to her mother; DICK Berkeley, so infuriated with Doris that he had forced her to agree to meet him later, although she was engaged to EUGENE ARNOLD, the chauffeur; WICKETT, butler formerly in employ of both Mrs. Lambert and Crosby.

Wickett, questioned by Strawn and Dundee, says he went up to bed at 11:15; knows nothing of the crime; that Doris had an appointment to meet Arnold, but Arnold had left home for her that he could not keep appointment, so he was required to drive guests home. Estate is being scoured for Dick Berkeley, missing from his room all night. Coroner Price, baffled with the body, is asked for expert opinion by Captain Strawn.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XI

D. R. PRICE shook his white head.

"Sorry, Captain Strawn, but I can't answer either of those questions now—definitely. Only an autopsy can tell whether the blow killed her or whether she was only stunned, and died by drowning. As to the time death took place, that will be hard to fix accurately, even after the autopsy. Unofficially, however, I'll say now that she has been dead between eight and nine hours—that opinion subject to revision, of course."

"Hm. . . . That places the murder between 11 o'clock and midnight, if you're right—and you usually are. Good enough for a starter, at any rate. . . . By the way, Doc, in examining the body, did you find a letter or note?"

"No—nothing of the sort. There's only one pocket—on the blouse of her uniform, and you can see for yourself it's empty. I rolled the stockings down to look for bruises, and can assure you that no note was concealed in them. The stockings, by the way, have snags and runs in the back of them."

"Runs? Funny that a pretty girl like that—the chief of the homicide squad began."

"There were no runs in her stockings when Dick Berkeley was forcing her to dance with him last night," Dundee interrupted. "I distinctly remember noticing how pretty her legs were in their sheer black silk stockings. But I think I know what is responsible for those runs," and he pointed to the rough edge of the flooring which extended slightly over the flight of three narrow steps leading down into the lake. "See! Here's a tiny thread of the stocking silk, caught in a splinter. The body was dragged to the steps—"

AND whoever dumped the girl in knew the lake pretty well—knew the water was deep enough here to hide the body, provided it was weighted down so it couldn't rise and float," Strawn pointed out. "Temporarily, at least, that counts Crosby out, unless he was so panicky he had to take a chance. . . . How far out was the body?"

"Very near the steps—not more than five or six feet," Dundee answered. "Here's how I visualize the crime—and by the way, I think it was an impromptu murder, one growing out of sudden anger, or fear. The use of the perfume flask as a weapon certainly points that way—"

"I'd be one of your first arrests, Chief," Dundee grinned. "My dinner coat's reeking with the stuff."

"How do you know it was the weapon?" Strawn objected.

"Three reasons: first, your nose tells you that perfume has been spilled here. Lots of it! Second, there's a glass splinter in that crack between the boards. Third, and he drew from his pocket the handkerchief-wrapped stopper of the crystal flask, 'I found this under the bench, overlooked by the murderer.'"

"But how the devil did the perfume flask get out here?"

"If we knew the answer to that question, I think we would know everything," Dundee replied.

"Frankly, it stumps me. But it is certainly obvious that nobody but a maniac would choose a crystal flask of extremely concentrated perfume with which to clog any one over the head—with premeditatedly murderous intentions, I mean. Therefore, I say the crime was impromptu, the weapon the first and only one at hand."

"Whether that assailant meant to murder her or not we can't know yet, of course," Dundee went on. "But granted that the blow only stunned the girl, the person who had hit her thought she was dead, or desperately feared the consequences if she regained consciousness and told what had happened. In any case, that person had only one thought—to conceal the body. And here was the lake—a made-to-order grave. No one could have foreseen that this morning would be so unseasonably warm that Gigi Berkeley would get up a swimming party. . . . Poor Gigi!" he added compassionately.

"YOU like the kid?" Strawn asked, grinning.

"Very much," Dundee answered curtly. "But to get along with the story, as I see it, The murderer was panic-stricken, but the instinct for self-preservation was strong. The body mustn't rise to the surface before he had a chance to escape, as naturally as possible. Therefore it must be weighted. . . . Look!" and he drew Strawn to the top step and pointed.

"There's where he got the stones. Didn't even have to leave the steps. Stopped and gathered them in—three from the right side of the steps, two from the left."

"Hey! Wait a minute!" Strawn protested. "How could the murderer see to do all this, unless he had been thoughtful enough to provide himself with a flashlight? I happen to know there wasn't any moon last night."

"There again circumstances played into the murderer's hand," Dundee said. "No moon, but light where it was needed. There are wire-covered electric lights placed among the rocks, all along the lake's edge, at intervals—sufficient to light up the lake and the interior of the summerhouse."

"I see. . . . Go on with your visualizing," Strawn commanded.

"Well, the rocks were placed inside the girl's skirts, but before that, I think, her little white apron was removed—"

"Apron?" Strawn repeated. "Part of her uniform, eh? Maybe she took it off before she came out on a date—"

"I see. . . . Go on with your visualizing," Strawn commanded.
